Special Guest!

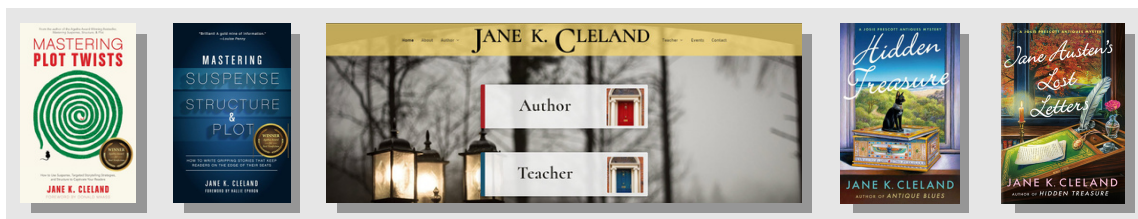

Beth is a freelance journalist and prolific, middle grade fiction author of a dozen middle grade novels, including the Cybils'-nominated Caleb and Kit, the ILA award-winning A Blind Guide to Stinkville, and the "Pack of Dorks" series.

During our discussion, she will share her tips on writing books for the middle grade audience and considerations and concerns middle grade authors must keep in mind to stand out in today's competitive publishing market.

Spend an hour with us on Saturday, January 21st at 1 p.m. Eastern time while we discuss these crucial concepts! There will be time for questions at the end.

You're welcome to sign up here, and I'll send you what you need to access the workshop.

Also, I'd love it if you could help me spread the word about my free workshops by sharing this flyer via email or social media. Tell your friends! Invite your writer's group or book club! Readers welcome, too! Thank you so much!
